François Beausoleil, author of “Blame Free State”, will be in Seoul, August 26th to 27th, 2017 offering a 2-day “Living in the Blame Free State” Intensive on the processes he has built to explore what you personally can do to reduce the presence of blame in your life – whether it’s blaming others, yourself or the situation.

“I am filled with joy and additionally deeply at peace. I also felt a warmth spread over me when you set the stage with an explanation of ‘ahimsa’. Throughout, you provided such an open hearted space for me (us) to process personal situations. And what a nurturing ‘how to’ you shared with us. I feel energized and refreshed, deeply nurtured and connected. Esther, past participant”

»Wherever you are on your life-path, this course can gift you with new tools for keeping your heart open and free of blame.«
